LICENSES ON MAUI.

WAILUKU, October 18—Gustave Rose of the Treasury Department in Honolulu, has been on Maui during the week looking up licenses. During the course of his travels on this island, Mr. Rose has found that quite a few store-keepers, stables, lodging houses and others have been operating without the required licenses. He also found several doing business for other parties, and as licenses are not transferable, all the licenses that will issue will have to be dated back. Mr. Rose did not wish to cause any trouble, and so has simply asked for the required license fee, which means quite a little sum to the government.

SPORTS

WILD STEERS FOR THE TOURNAMENT

EBEN LOW SELECTS GOOD ONES FOR TOMORROW'S COWBOY CONTEST AT KAPIOLANI PARK.

Eben Low ran up against the real thing this morning down at Honolulu ranch when he went to take a look at the steers that Manager Louis Warren had captured for tomorrow afternoon's contest. "Louis Warren certainly got wild ones," said Mr. Low in town this morning. "They are about the wildest looking lot I ever saw. We have wild steers on Hawaii but we can't beat these. Louis Warren thinks he will have a joke on the Hawaii boys but the joke will be on the other side." Asked if there was any danger from any of the steers getting away Mr. Low said that it would be an impossibility for a steer to get into the grandstand, besides there will be any number of cowboys on hand and a steer could never get by them. "It is a show that will be as novel as it is exciting," said Mr. Low, "and will be entirely free from any brutality or roughness that would be distasteful to the ladies. Of course the steers will be thrown and tied but they are built for that kind of business. The sport will be wholesome and clever, with a good sprinkling of humor."

Besides the roping and broncho busting contests there will be a watermelon race on polo ponies which will be very funny. Also an egg race. Each contestant must carry an egg in a long handled spoon. If he drops the egg he must go back for another. The prizes offered are very liberal and every one worth working for.

Tickets are now on sale at Wall, Nichols Company and will also be sold on the ground.

FOOTBALL LEAGUE MEETS.

At last night's meeting of the Hawaiian Association Football League the following officers were elected:

President, D. W. Anderson; vice-president, M. Simpson; secretary, A. A. Cotton; treasurer, E. Fernandez; manager, J. C. Anderson.

The Iolani, Punahou, Malles, Y. M. C. A. and Diamond Heads have joined the league.

The captains and secretaries of the above five clubs will form a league committee, which, with the other officers, will meet in a couple of weeks to arrange a schedule for the season.

Practice will commence at Makiki next week and will be continued every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evening.

MORE THAN A MILE OF PHOTOGRAPHS

A FILM OF THAT LENGTH IN THE MOVING PICTURES OF THE BRITT-NELSON FIGHT.

There was another good house at the moving picture reproduction of the Britt-Nelson fight, last night, at the Orpheum. The operation of the picture machine, which gave some trouble the first night, was entirely satisfactory last night. The picture machine is a very intricate mechanism involving as it does both mechanics and electrical manipulation. It was slightly wracked on the way down from the coast, but yesterday it was put in perfect order mechanically, and so far as it is concerned, the show last night was more satisfactory than it was the first night.

In the pictures of the Britt-Nelson fight there is none of that rapid oscillation usual in most picture machines in the past, and which is so trying to the eyes. The pictures show no motion except that of the scene they are depicting. This they show to the life, so that the scene is reproduced in every movement before the eyes of the spectators.

In presenting the eighteen rounds of the Britt-Nelson fight more than a mile of film is unrolled and passes before the light and is thrown on the screen. It is run through the machine at exactly the same rate of speed that it went through the machine when the fight was in progress, so that not only the actual scenes of the fight are reproduced but in the exact time that was given to them. Thus each round as it is presented in the moving pictures, takes exactly three minutes. The minute waits between rounds, however, has been wisely cut out by the management after the first two or three rounds, as no essential feature of the contest is lost by doing so, and it cuts the performance a little shorter.

There were more women at the entertainment last night than there were the first evening, the fact that there were some of the first evening apparently emboldening others to witness it last night.

The show is certainly a most interesting one from every point of view. It will be given again this evening. Popular prices prevail.
